SOUTHERN NEWS.

Mr. Gantner, of New Orleans, has written a play entitled "The Carpet-bagger."

Savannah, Ga.: Augusta today has received 41,491 bales of cotton, against 70,485 last year.

Four companies of the Eighteenth Infantry went into winter quarters at Atlanta Saturday.

The synod of Virginia met at Alexandria, on the 10th of W. T. Richardson was chosen Moderator.

Geo. H. Bell has been awarded the contract for the Confederate monument at Memphis for $4,285.

Wm. Theodore, of Tyler, Texas, in trying to drive a hog into a pen, fell and was attacked by the hog and killed.

Dr. F. G. Gage and Miss Bessie, daughter of the late General W. J. Hardie, were married at Selma on Wednesday last.

W. M. Moore, Collector of Internal Revenue, Third Georgia District, has been arrested on the charge of embezzling $4,065.

"Satan's recruit, Tom Tanner, the Saline county murderer, danced the aerial quick step," is the heading of a hanging in the Little Rock Gazette.

A fashionable marriage took place in Petersburg, on Wednesday, W. B. McIlwaine married Miss Jennie M. Peg-

The Memphis Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will hold its next session in Knoxville, Tenn., during November 21. Bishop Keener will preside.

The gross earnings of the Alabama penitentiary for the fiscal year, ending September 30, was $43,258.88; total expenses, $7,640.35; net earnings, $35,618.53.

A convention of the people of the Tennessee valley is called to meet in Chattanooga December 5, to memorialize Congress on the subject of an appropriation to improve the navigation of that stream.

There are now in the State of Georgia, in working order, five hundred and thirty-seven Granges forming the Order of the Patrons of Husbandry, and the outlook is regarded as very prosperous.

The Houston Age in an interview with Captain Wells, just from the Rio Grande, learns from that officer that the war feeling on both sides of the river is intense, and that the Mexicans are well prepared for and are by no means averse to a war.

The flowing from the Courier-Journal should find a place in every scrapbook: "The puppy that is tried to go among his fellow-men without a navy, six on his hip ought to be kicked out of society on the tip of public sentiment."

The trials of Judges Grason and Yelot, of Baltimore county Circuit Court, Md., indicted in that county for malfeasance in office, was commenced at Annapolis on Wednesday, in the Anne Arundel Circuit Court, to which the case has been removed—Judges Miller, Hayden and Hammond sitting.

Petersburg Index-Appel: In the county of Surry there lives with the family of Mr. Hughes, well known here as the mail carrier between this place and Jerusalem, an aged lady named Ivey, who for a number of years has been perfectly blind. On last Sunday she unexpectedly found herself in possession of her eyesight, as fully as clear as ever in the days of her youth. Such an occurrence is very rare, but we have the best authority for saying that it is literally a fact.

STATE NEWS.

The new Episcopal church in Winston will be dedicated next Friday.

The stockholders' meeting of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad company will be held in Wilmington on the 20th inst.

We regret to learn, says the Durham Tobacco Plant, that P. M. Briggs has decided to remove from our midst and locate at Raleigh.

The foundations have been laid, and work is now finely progressing on quite a large building intended for a colored seminary at Greensboro.

Charlotte Observer: It is probable that Gov. Vance will be accompanied to the Columbia Fair by a party of ladies and gentlemen from Charlotte.

The members of Rev. T. H. Pegram's congregation in Winston "pounded" him last Saturday with an avalanche of good things in pound packages.

The commissioners of Salisbury, says the Watchman, have ordered the gas turned on the street lamps. (Why didn't they try Evers' patent?)

Bishop Doggett, the venerable and distinguished divine will preside over the session of the M. E. Conference of North Carolina, which meets at Salisbury on the 25th of the present month.

Some friend, says a correspondent of the Tarboro Southern, poured a kerosene oil on Taylor's great bridge Saturday night and set fire to it, but the bridge being wet but little damage was done.

The commissioners of Salisbury have passed the following sentence: order: That any boy or other person caught jumping on the platform of the cars coming into or going out of town, shall be fined $5 for every such offence.

The Wilmington Star says, the Cadets of the Cape Fear Military Academy, under command of Maj. Burgess, the principal of the school, will attend the Cumberland County Fair, which commences at Fayetteville on Tuesday, the 13th inst.

Salisbury Watchman: A barn belonging to Mrs. Catharine Kistler, in Mt. Ulla neighborhood, was fired and burned on the 2d inst., together with its contents of 40 bushels unthreshed corn and other provender. A negro woman was arrested on the charge of setting the fire.

Tarboro Southern: We understand that last Sunday while O'Brien's circus was on its way from this place to Halifax, it met an old woman driving a cart. The elephant, which is said to be remarkably vicious, upon seeing the old woman, ran his snout under the cart, turning it over upon her and breaking her back.

We learn, says the Wilmington Democrat, that blind stagers are very prevalent among the horses in parts of Sampson and Duplin counties, quite a number having died. This disease seems to be almost incurable. A horse seldom survives it and when one does he is of little, if any value, we understand.

Weekly, of Louisville, to disparage and throw cold water upon the laudable enterprise of establishing a medical journal in our own State.

The North Carolina Medical Journal is on a firm and able foundation; it will be able to conduct by two of our leading physicians, assisted by an able corps of contributors; subscribers and encouragement are being poured in rapidly and in such numbers as justifies the assertion that its success will be fine and permanent.

The profession of North Carolina, composed of able physicians and as skillful surgeons as practice in any city or State in the Union, will rally around their own journal, and give it such a true and sustaining support, as will place it at once among the best and most successful medical journals in the whole country.

UNDER the head, "North Carolina Jurists," the National Republican says: "It is the studied policy of the ruling powers of South Carolina to exclude colored citizens from the jury box, and to render this the more apparent the grand jury of Carteret County has just made a presentment of Judge W. A. Moore, for 'malfeasance and corruption in office.'"

Nothing can be more clear than that the colored citizens of North Carolina are being outrageously despoiled of their rights, and it is equally apparent that the judiciary is being made, as far as possible, an engine of persecution against those who have the manliness and courage to stand firmly by the rights of the freedman."

This slanderous statement may best be answered by the words of B. J. Edwards, a respectable colored man in this community, in a letter to the People's Advocate. He says: "The outlook for the negro in this State is brighter to-day than it has been at any previous time. * * The whites, far from giving evidence of any design against his liberties, evince an earnest desire to promote his welfare and elevate him to a higher plane of citizenship. * * The whites seem to realize forcibly the important truth that their interests are inseparably interwoven with those of the blacks," &c.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to increase the permanent annual appropriation for printing the militia. The present annual appropriation is $200,000. It is proposed to make it $1,000,000. North Carolina, under the existing statute, receives annually about $5,000. Under the contemplated increase we would get $25,000 a year. By all means let our delegation support this bill.

The Congressional Record of November 7, announces, among the bills introduced in the House, the following: By Mr. Vance, a bill to place the name of John Brown upon the pension rolls; and by Mr. Waddell, a bill to establish a board of admiralty for the merchant marine, and to improve the efficiency of the same.

The selection of Judge Kerr for President of the State is a just tribute to his exalted virtues, zealous of duty and pure morality. He enjoys in the largest measure the esteem and confidence of his brethren in faith, as well as the profound respect and good will of the public at large.

The Beauty of the Bismarcks. (From the London Truth, October 25th.) There is a pretty legend in connection with the Bismarck oak family which goes to show how the oak leaves adorning the Bismarck shield were added to the armorial bearings of the Prussian Emperor. It runs as follows: Many years ago there was a lovely maiden, Gertrude von Bismarck. Numbers of noble knights and courtiers sought her hand and heart, but she was, by her own consent and her father's wish, betrothed to a cousin, a noble and princely youth. One day there came to the castle where the beautiful Gertrude lived a Prince of the Wendens, with one hundred horsemen, to try and win her. She courteously, but firmly, refused him. The Prince was greatly enraged, and, incited by his great love-lives, determined to gain her; so he called his warriors and said he would break the clover-leaf (Gertrude) with his own hand. On the same day he assailed the castle, which was but weakly defended. The castle was soon overcome, and then the maiden's chamber. "I come to break you in, you golden clover-leaf. You don't sting like stinging nettles. Clover does not sting," he said, and, with that, put his arm around her. A moment more and he withdrew it, crying out, "Mercy! Gertrude held a dagger over him, then struck it in his heart, saying, 'The nettle stings hard whoever will break or touch Bismarck's golden clover.' Since then the Bismarck shield wears the oak leaves as a sign and crown of victory.

A Full Tin Minits. An Irish lady called on a photographer to have a cabinet portrait taken. When the artist began to take her told her she need not sit any longer. On coming out of the dark room he found her still bolt upright in the chair, with that look of petrified despair on her face peculiar to the photographic pose. "You needn't sit there any longer," said the frightened artist. "What's that?" she hoarsely whispered, without changing a muscle. "I say you needn't sit there now—I have finished," he exclaimed. "Ain't I to pay ye a dollar?" she interrogated him on the mark. "Yes," "Well, then, do ye mane to say I'm to give ye a dollar for only five minits in the cheer? Be- gorra, I'd have a full tin minits for the money, and that's little enough in all conscience!" And she had it.

The Portland (Me.) Press of Monday says that Senator Blaine has been quite ill since his return home, due in a great measure to the fatigue consequent on the journey, but the symptoms are now favorable for speedy recovery.

Among the guests at a recent wedding in York, Maine, was Mrs. Williams, of Boston, widow of the late Judge Williams, of Bangor, who attended a wedding in same house seventy-three years ago. She is eighty-nine years of age.

Conkling's own Senatorial district elected a Democrat to vote against his return to the United States Senate, Elton Brute!

An Open Letter to the Public.
New York, October 1, 1877.

I have devoted twenty years of patient study to the Liver and its relations to the human system. A quarter of a century ago I discovered a new remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal condition. The result of that labor has been the production of

TUTT'S LIVER PILLS.
Their popularity has become so extended and the demand so great as to induce unscrupulous parties to counterfeit them, thereby depriving you of the reward, and the afflicted of their virtues.

To Caution the Public and protect them from the impositions, say, adopted a new label, which bears my trade-mark and notice of its entry in the Office of the Librarian of Congress, also my signature, thus:

W. H. TUTT, M. D.
To COUNTERFEIT THIS IS FORGERY. Before purchasing, examine the label closely.

THE GENUINE TUTT'S PILLS
exert a peculiar influence on the system. Their action is prompt, and their good effects are felt in a few hours. A quarter of a century ago I discovered a new remedy which would restore it, when diseased, to its normal condition. The result of that labor has been the production of

FIFTH AVENUE—5 P. M.
The lady whom I bowed to in that carriage! I thought you knew her—Mrs. S. H. Brown. One of our beauties. Made a bill and made a name.

Plenty of money—splendid house—up town. You must have heard about her—Belle Van Vorst.

She made her debut while you were abroad. The men went wild about her grace and beauty. The women had her with an accord.

That was Brown with her. Took him for her father?

Well, yes, there's no denying that he's old. I think I'll paint the modern with the gift of gold.

And he had millions; so why should I grieve?

Was she not wise? How could a hot house do battle with the frosts and storms of life.

And when she's lower, and fortune's frown is on her face, and he's most who feels them for his wife.

Why should I weep me for the love of woman? The heart's a muscle, and it cannot break. And yet—alas! for the who trust the human. We love, we dream, we help us when we wake.

—Mrs. M. P. Handy in Harper's Bazar.

NEWS NOTES.

There are said to be 210 deserted farm-houses in Wingham county, Vermont.

The 13th Infantry, posted at Saratoga to suppress the riots, have returned to New Orleans.

Baltimore has had "an old folks' concert," at which the performers were 75 children dressed in the costumes of the last century.

A Maryland bride, 40 years old, went out in a spasm just as the important moment was to be spoken, and was taken from the church to the insane asylum a raving maniac.

The Lebanon (Penn.) Times makes the assertion that the Blue Mountain range, running through Pennsylvania, is divided at regular intervals of 21 miles by rivers or water courses.

Jesse Pomeroy, the boy murderer, serving a life sentence in the Charleston, Mass., State prison, was detected Monday evening in an attempt to cut his way out of the cell. He had moved a large stone several inches, and would doubtless in a short time have been able to effect escape.

When an enthusiastic editor describes a bride as bonny, and an envious compositor sets her up as bouy, as was done at Jacksonville the other day, hope for a season bids the world farewell, and freedom shrieks as the compositor falls at his form, brained by the brother of the blooming bride.

The Turkish successes are partly due to the advice of some of the best strategists in Europe. It is reported that Von Morike, after giving the Russians a plan of campaign, has with laudable impartiality accorded the Turkish similar favor, and watches with peculiar interest the developments which result.

After three years' litigation the company organized to construct a tunnel under the Hudson river from Jersey City to New York have effected a compromise with the opposing companies, and the work begun in 1874 is to be immediately resumed. When the tunnel is completed it is expected that passengers by rail will be able to go through it from Jersey City to New York in two minutes.

A little girl in St. Louis has obtained a verdict for $10,000 damages against the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad Company for the loss of a leg and an arm, by being run over by a train. Last spring her father sued the company for $5,000 for the loss of her services, and got a verdict for $3,085, on which an appeal was taken to the Court of Appeals. Yet another suit is pending against the company growing out of the same accident.

Capoul and the Ladies.

(From the London Truth)
Capoul's vanity is really insupportable. It will cause him to be much hated by the fair sex as he has been admired. These are the directions which he gave the upholsterer who fitted up his dressing room and the Theatre Lyrique. "Very elegant furniture and very little of it. Leave plenty of room for bouquets. The few chairs must be narrow. I have had enough of crazy grannies darning trying to sit down beside me. The garrison and desk are to be eighteenth century. Don't spare Cupids and garlands in the ornamentation." A Peaches, and a very genuine one, tired of writing letters to the tenor, who he had not the grace to answer, hung, some evenings ago, a crimson bouquet at him. He was dreaming of the absent Virginia. The fall of the flowers did not arouse him from his dream. Capoul got through it undisturbed, as a lyric dramatist should. But when the vision faded from his sight he rose and coolly and contemptuously drove, with a single kick, the bouquet into the wings. The Duchess grew more scarlet than her flowers, wept and slipped from the theatre before his play was over.

Mr. Hendricks and the Electoral Commission.
Ex-Governor Hendricks was one of the counsel in an important litigation before an Indianapolis court recently, and one of the opposing lawyers testified him with not acquiescing in the decision of the electoral tribunal. The Governor was on his feet in an instant, saying: "There is nothing which I have said either in public or private which authorizes what the gentleman has just said. I did not believe the commission did its duty, according to the law, but never favored a resistance to its authority, and that was known to the gentleman himself." When asked if he was not in favor of contesting the decision, he replied: "Never. I had no thought of a lawsuit. I thought the decision, when made, must stand."

An Austin letter, descriptive of the Texas land grant and deed forgeries, says that the simultaneous arrest of the 120 operators was intended, but failed; and that at the time of the arrest Tullis, the originator of the swindle, had actually consummated a sale of 127,000 acres of land to parties in Boston, while another of the swindlers was negotiating for an exchange of 54,000 acres with a New York house for a $10,000 stock of hardware. Other important sales of tracts of 17,000 and 13,000 acres, as well as many smaller lots, were under way.
